The John and Lyn Lofland Undergraduate Research Award

The John and Lyn Lofland Undergraduate Research Award honors excellence in undergraduate research in sociology at UC Davis. Junior and senior sociology majors who have completed a substantial piece of sociological research will be eligible for the award. The Sociology Department's Undergraduate Program Committee will review submissions and will make one or more awards per year.

Emeriti professors of sociology Lyn and John Lofland were highly committed to undergraduate education throughout their careers at UC Davis. They were instrumental in creating the sociology honors program, the research assistant program, undergraduate seminars and establishing a chapter of Alpha Kappa Delta. They have made a generous gift to the department to establish this new award. We hope you will join them in supporting undergraduate education in sociology by making a gift to the Lofland fund.
